Response to Amendment

This Office Action is responsive to the amendment filed on 6/14/2007. Claims 5-8, 10-18 have been canceled. Claims 1-4, 9 are pending. Claim 1 has been amended. Applicant's arguments have been considered, but are not persuasive. Claims 1-4, 9 are finally rejected for reasons of record.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Masanori et al (JP Publication 2001-093538).

Masanori et al. disclose a fuel cell separator made out of stainless steel.

The stainless steel plate has an oxide layer form on the front face (paragraph 9) as defined in applicant's claim 1. Masanori et al. disclose that on top of the stainless steel base, with the oxide film, is an electrically conductive thin layer of a noble metal (paragraph 8), with an intermediate layer of Ti (paragraph 8).

The product-by-process limitations of claims 1 and 2 are not given patentable weight since the courts have held that patentability is based on a product itself, even if the prior art product is made by a different process (see In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964, (CAFC 1985), In re Brown, 173 USPQ 685 (CCPA 1972), and In re Marosi, 218 USPQ 289, 292-293 (CAFC 1983)).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Masanori et al (JP Publication 2001-093538) in view of Yoshimura (JP 2000-138067).

Masanori discloses all the elements of claim 1. Masanori does not disclose a carbon coating film on the electrically conductive thin film. Yoshimura teaches of using carbon as a top coat layer to further assist in corrosion resistance (Abstract). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to add another layer of graphite, as taught by Yoshimura, for the benefit of additional protection against corrosion.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 6/14/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant asserts that Masanori does not disclose an intermediate layer as claimed in claim 1.

The Examiner notes that Masanori's coating of Ti fully reads on the Applicant's intermediate layer. It is noted that 37 CFR 1.111(b) states, "A general allegation that the claims define a patentable invention without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of the section.” Applicant has failed to specifically point out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references.

Applicant must discuss the references applied against the claims, explaining how the claims avoid the references or distinguish from them.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
